

Then when the windrowed grain is really ripe, the farmer uses an MM Harvester to pick up the windrows and thresh the grain. All MM Harvestors have attachments so that they can harvest either standing or windrowed grain.

