

After plowing, the farmer uses a harrow to break up the lumpy ground so that the seed can take root and grow better. In this picture the farmer is using an MM disc harrow.